Narrative Report

Works or Job Within the Week

My work this week focused on starting the user manual for the DepEd web app. I drafted the guide by taking screenshots of the system and drawing boxes to highlight important buttons. I added labels and numbers to these boxes to show step-by-step instructions, like "click this button," so users can easily follow the process. On Friday, I continued labeling these images and organizing the steps while working from home.

Important Events During the Week

I was at school on Tuesday and Wednesday for the Career Orientation and Job Fair. Thursday was a holiday for the Day of Valor, so there was no work. On Friday, I moved to a work-from-home setup to finish my documentation tasks.

Related Work Aligned with Course

This task is part of my IT course because it involves making a manual that explains how a system works. By highlighting buttons and adding step-by-step labels, I am making the software easier for people to use. It helps me understand the system flow better as I explain each part.
